To protect the public against Imitations and Fraud we caution all purchasers of BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS
to see that the word CAPCINE on the label is correctly spelled. Do not allow some other plaster to be palmed off under a similar sounding name, with the assurance that it is the same thing or as good. Bear in mind that the only object such vender can have is the fact that they can buy imitations at the prices less than that of the genuine, and they hope by this substitution to gain a small additional profit.

NEWS AND OTHER ITEMS.

Bonding land and blasting for specimens are the order of the day.

Bass were placed in the Delaware only five years ago, and now they are very plentiful.

Mr. Wm. Donnell, of Bath, has the contract for a one hundred ton vessel, for Boston parties.

Athens votes, 188 to 53, to take fifteen thousand dollars in the Skowhegan and Athens railroad.

Over four thousand bushels of wheat have been ground at the Medomak Flour Mill, Waldoboro, for farmers in that vicinity, since last fall.

The committee on public buildings in Portland, have voted hereafter not to let either of the halls owned by the city, for pedestrian contests.

Mr. Frank Simmons, the Maine sculptor, is modeling a statue representing a beautiful Hebrew woman, and symbolizing the wanderings of the Israelites in the wilderness.

W. H. C. Folsom, dentist, has been indicted for arson by the Grand Jury of Somerset county. He is charged with setting fire to Fuller's Block in Hartland, a year ago, as is alleged, to get an insurance of $400 which he had on his tools. He will be brought from Colorado for trial.

SALE OF SHORT HORNS. Mr. L. A. Dow, of Waterville, has sold the following Short Horns: to Martin Whitten, of Montville, "Red Knight;" to W. B. Brown, East Wilton, "Silkman;" to James Patten, North Newport, "Rover" and "Raspberry;" to G. S. Foss, Albion, "Dick." The above are all thoroughbred animals and these sales show that farmers are beginning to pay more attention to good stock.

The town of Goodwin, which has recently sprung up in Dakota, and which is named in honor of the late George Peabody Goodwin, a brother of Hon. John M. Goodwin, of Biddeford, Me., has already thirty-five business houses and a flourishing eight-page weekly paper. The streets of the town are designated by Goodwin family names, and the avenues are Baldwin, Bowdoin, Portland and others, named for towns in Maine where Mr. Goodwin formerly lived, and the college from which he graduated.

A new church is about to be built at Saco Ferry. The foundation has been put in readiness, and the sills were laid Tuesday It is to be in size 50 by 30 feet, and located at the junction of the Bay View with the Ferry road, on a lot generously presented by Abiatha W. Leavitt. The material for the church will very largely be presented by people at the Ferry and their friends in the city proper, and the work on the church will, much of it, be contributed in the same manner. It is to be reckoned as a "Union Society." Rev. Mr. Bean (Methodist) of Saco, has been largely instrumental in drawing together the interests to a building condition. Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, Rev. Mr. Davis of Manchester, N. H., and others of the last summer's "Bay View" boarders, have also interested themselves in the project, and generously offer their services in keeping the pulpit supplied through the summer.

We are ever pleased to chronicle the achievements of the sons of Maine. Mr. Frederic Allen Gower, of Paris, a native of Maine, has invented a telephone, known as "The Gower Telephone," which has all France by the ears. In a recent lecture by M. Janin, before the French Scientific Association, the great scientist classes Mr. Gower's invention among the principal telephones, and gives it the benefit of full description and illustrations. A board of French telegraph officials was appointed some months since to investigate the merits of the various telephones, and in its report, lately made public, the preference is given to the Gower Telephone, for both long and short lines. Upon the heels of their announcement came an order from London for two thousand telephones, to be delivered as fast as possible. In France, applications of new subscribers are much faster than they can be attended to. Indeed it seems that Mr. Gower has struck a Bonanza that must yield him fabulous wealth and untold honors. Mr. Gower was born in Sedgwick, Hancock county, and is now but twenty-eight years of age. He is a son of a Baptist clergyman, the late Rev. H. B. Gower. His mother, Mrs. Maria Gower Sargent, present wife of Hon. W. G. Sargent, resides at the present time in Augusta. National Republican Convention.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago on Thursday, the 3d day of June next, at 12 o'clock noon, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice-President at the next election. Republicans and all who will co operate with them in supporting the nominees of the party are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON,
Chairman National Committee.
THOMAS B KEOGH, Secretary.

THE "STRONG MAN" ARGUMENT.

In the discussion of the choice of the Presidential candidate of the Republican Party, the principal argument in favor of a third term for General Grant has been based upon the alleged necessity that we should have a "strong man" to cope with the threatened purpose of the Democracy to resort to the most unscrupulous and revolutionary measures to prevent the inauguration of another Republican President Assuming that these wicked designs will be carried to their extreme, it is argued that General Grant, as the Republican candidate, would be better able to overcome and defeat them than any other leader that has been named. The logic of this claim is not so apparent. It is true that General Grant proved one of the greatest of military chieftains, but the contest for the Presidency is a civic and not a military one, and we are now preparing for an appeal to the ballot box and not to civil war What we need is not a candidate who could lead his hosts to battle after the Mexican plan of deciding elections but a candidate who will inspire such popular enthusiasm and support that his election will be put far beyond cavil or dispute.

This is a Constitutional Government and the fundamental principle, so emphatically re affirmed by the result of the great war for the Union, is that the Constitution has in itself the sentiments of self preservation and all the "strength" required, to protect and maintain our institutions. The sentiment of the people of this Union is that the Constitution and the Laws are "stronger" than any man, and that whenever their powers are properly and firmly invoked, they will prove invincible against any assault of faction or conspiracy.

We believe that the sort of "strong man" demanded by the Republicans of the United States for their leader in the campaign of 1880, is one who recognizes not only the sacredness but also the potency of the Constitution as a conservator and preserver of the rights of the people, and who, without setting himself above the Law, has the statesmanship, sagacity and courage to invoke and marshal every lawful agency and power to the vindication of a free ballot honestly counted.

For such a man we need not look in vain, or seek beyond the citizenship of our own State, and events of the past six months have more clearly than ever before identified our glorious leader, JAMES G. BLAINE, as the kind of "strong man" needed and desired by the Republicans of the country for their standard-bearer and chief in the coming contest.

It is now a matter of history that the conspiracy to steal the State of Maine was an important part of the organized plan of the Democracy to grasp the next Presidency by fraud, and the exposure has shown it to have been the most startling and monstrous crime ever attempted against the suffrage rights of the people. The conspirators had the advantage of being entrenched in power as a co-ordinate branch of the State Government, and the fact that the Chief-Executive and his Councillors prostituted their powers and immunities to the perpetration of the great crime of setting up, by fraudulent count and fraudulent certificates, another co-ordinate branch of the Government, which proceeded in turn to set up a fraudulent Executive, rendered the task of exposing and overthrowing the gigantic conspiracy an almost superhuman task.

When Senator Blaine returned to Maine in the middle of November, after his arduous campaigning in the West, he found himself confronted with a plot of villany unparalleled and almost incredible. The conspirators had prepared for a grand coup d' etat by the issuing of certificates to a fraudulent majority in both branches of the Legislature, and not a moment was to be lost. From that moment Senator Blaine closed upon the conspirators in a grapple that never ceased to tighten until by methods of Law and under the powers of the Constitution the attempt to set up a Government in Maine by fraud was strangled to death.

From the first day, on which nearly two hundred of the most eminent Republican citizens of the State were summoned by telegraph for consultation at the State Capital, the residence of Senator Blaine was the headquarters of the most memorable and triumphant campaign ever conducted in New England, and throughout the whole contest he bore the heat and the brunt of the battle by day and by night. True, he was cordially and ably assisted by many of the foremost men of the State, and none would be more generous than himself in awarding credit to others, but his rare faculty of bringing together the men who could throw the most light upon troublesome problems and who could most effectually co-operate in measures for defeating the conspiracy, is one of the chief elements of "strength" in a political leader under our form of popular government. Therefore, while all recognize the important advisory service rendered by several of our distinguished ex-Governors, by our Congressional delegation, by leading lawyers and other citizens, also the invaluable aid that Gen. Chamberlain was enabled to give by preserving the peace until the lawful Government was established, and above all, the magnificent protection of the people's rights by our glorious Supreme Court, it is still as thoroughly understood, that during the whole eventful and critical contest, the control and responsibility of conducting the people's cause and baffling the conspirators rested constantly upon Senator Blaine.

Those who went through the contest with him know how he stood like a tower of strength through weeks on weeks of most exhausting and sometimes discouraging labors. His fertility of resources never failed, his courage never faltered, his energy never abated, his industry was unceasing. Every detail of the struggle with the conspirators passed under his inspection, and nearly every important document on the Republican side was furnished by his trenchant pen.

He never ceased to have confidence in a Constitutional method of overthrowing the usurpation, and while Augusta was thronged with excited people, and his residence was threatened with attack, he calmly aided in arranging for the organization of the rightful Legislature and for the submission of the case to the Supreme Court.

From the beginning to the end of the desperate struggle with organized and entrenched fraud, the eyes of the people of the United States were fixed upon Senator Blaine, and from first to last he never for a moment shirked his responsibility. Working from the outset with a profound confidence in the ultimate triumph of Law over Fraud, of Right over Wrong, Mr. Blaine devoted himself with a zeal that was incessant and with peerless abilities to the task of breaking through the defences of the conspirators, and massing against them every potency of Constitutional redress.

The splendid triumph that was won has been hailed with enthusiastic admiration by the whole country. It is recognized far and wide that the greatest battle ever waged with political fraud in this country has been gained by strictly legal and orderly methods in the State of Maine; and there is unmistakable evidence that the great majority of the Republicans of the Union believe that the indomitable leader and organizer of the grand victory over usurpation in the Dirigo State, is just such a "strong man" as is needed for the Republican Standard-bearer in the coming National Campaign.

THE KELLOGG AND BUTLER CASES.

[From the Boston Journal]

The Charleston (S. C) News, whose Democracy no one will question, contained in a recent issue a very interesting account of the agreement made by the two parties in the Senate which resulted in the admission of Kellogg of Louisiana and Butler of South Carolina. The account of the News occupies nearly a column and a half, and is made up from the Congressional Record, evidently by a friend of Senator Butler. From this account it appears that the majority of the Committee on Privileges and Elections reported on the 29th of November, 1877, a resolution admitting Kellogg to a seat in the Senate from Louisiana "upon the merits of the case," being 'lawfully entitled' to the same. The Senate was at this time Republican. The Democrats presented an amendment providing for the recommittal of the credentials of both Kellogg and Spofford to the Election Committee. This was voted down. Another amendment was offered setting forth that nothing in the resolution admitting Kellogg should preclude the Senate from its right to demand the investigation of certain charges affecting the right of Kellogg to the seat. This resolution was discussed at length, but there being no prospect of settlement (there being but one secular day remaining for action), Senator Thurman suggested an "agreement" After further discussion on a new resolution to admit Spofford on a prima facie title subject to the right of Kellogg to contest the seat, Senator Edmunds said:

"I ask unanimous consent be given to come to an understanding among the Senators: First to vote on the Kellogg Spofford case at or before two o'clock and thirty minutes A M, to-day, the Chairman of the committee or any one allowed by him to have the last hour to sum up if desired. Second to vote on the Butler Corbin case at or before the expiration of one hour after the Kellogg-Spofford case is disposed of, the time to be equally divided, the Chairman of the committee or some one for him to have the last thirty minutes to close the debate."

This proposition being made, Mr. Thurman said:

"I hope the proposition will be agreed to, and I ask my Democratic friends on this floor to agree to it, and to trust to me that it will result in an arrangement perfectly honorable and fair to both parties"

The amendment to seat Spofford on a 'prima facie' title was voted down Mr Merrimon then moved that Spofford be permitted to present at the bar of the Senate the testimony he offered to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and that the further consideration of the subject be postponed until such testimony could be taken. Mr. Edmunds replied that this course would be "a plain violation of the understanding which had just been had, that the Senate would vote square and straight upon the case." Upon being reminded of this agreement, Mr. Merrimon withdrew his motion. The resolution declaring that Kellogg be admitted "upon the merits of the case, being legally entitled to a seat, was directly voted on and adopted. Thereupon Senator Thurman moved that M. C. Butler of South Carolina be sworn in as Senator from South Carolina, which motion was carried, and both Butler and Kellogg were then sworn in.

It will be seen that all of the propositions to take testimony and to admit Spofford were voted down, and that the resolution to admit Kellogg upon the merits of the case was voted upon in pursuance of the proposition of Mr. Edmunds, which is spoken of throughout by both parties as an agreement The News also calls attention to the fact that when Mr. Corbin contested Mr. Butler's seat, the latter took the ground that the Senate had passed upon the case, taking it out of the hands of the committee, and that it could not be reopened. The News candidly says on this point:

"How much stronger is Kellogg's position, inasmuch as the resolution under which he was admitted acknowledges his right on the merits of the case, while Senator Butler was admitted under a naked motion that he be sworn in.

In view of these facts the News calls upon Democratic Senators to decline to follow the lead of Senator Hill in this matter because it will be the virtual violation of an arrangement by which the settlement of the cases of Messrs. Kellogg and Butler was generally regarded as a finality. In conclusion, the News says:

"A postponement of the matter is not enough. What is wanted is a square and straight vote. If the Democratic Senators be divided it will do no harm, so long as prominent Southern Senators decline to make capital for the Republicans. There will be a brilliant opportunity to show how nice is the sense of honor among the Southern Senators, and how unwilling they are to use power ruthlessly to secure a political advantage that will cost a thousand times more than it is worth."

THE DEMOCRATIC BULLDOZERS.

[Wash Cor. N. Y. Tribune, March 26]

During the struggle of the last three days in the House about a score of Democrats have acted and voted steadily with the Republicans. This fact has excited a great deal of bitter feeling, the effects of which will not wear off very soon. Last night Mr. Blackburn and some of his friends were very bitter in their denunciation of Speaker Randall and the Democratic members from Pennsylvania. Mr. Blackburn was especially loud in his vituperations. Later in the evening a personal encounter between him and Mr. Coffroth, a Democratic member from Pennsylvania, was barely averted by interposition of friends. An account of this affair was given to a Tribune correspondent this afternoon by Mr. Coffroth himself. In substance Mr. Coffroth's version is as follows:

"I asked Mr. Blackburn," said Mr. Coffroth, "if some arrangement could not be made to reach a vote." He brusquely replied that he had sent Mr. Thomas Turner to the other side, I understood him to say to my masters, with two propositions for a settlement. He then went on to say that if we Pennsylvania Democrats had done our duty, instead of turning traitors to our party, the question would have been settled before. He denounced Mr. Randall as a traitor to his party, and said that the Republicans were running the House. I replied that he knew better and that Mr. Randall and his friends were just as true Democrats as could be found.

"Words grew hot between us," continued Mr. Coffroth, and he finally denounced me as a traitor to Democracy. I retorted that it was untrue and that I had never been a traitor to my party or my country He demanded to know if I meant that he had been guilty of treason. I replied that this was exactly what I meant and believed. I added that he ought to have been hanged for his treason. He threatened to strike me, and I reminded him that two could play that game. He did call me a liar, and then friends came between us. There might have been a fight if they had not interposed. Several of his friends came to me afterward and excused him on the ground that he had been drinking."

"Mr Coffroth continued, "I wont stand any bulldozing from rebels. I am as good a Democrat as any of them, and I don't want them to accuse me of treachery to my party. I remember the fight we had in their behalf in the XXXVIIIth Congress, when the reconstruction measures were under discussion. We did our very best and got them back into Congress, and now they abuse us."

There is no doubt that Mr. Coffroth expresses the feelings of a good many of the more independent Northern Democrats in Congress, who are growing more and more restless under the dictatorial spirit evinced by the Southern Democrats Whether the former will be led to take a more independent stand, or the latter to moderate their tone, remains an interesting subject for speculation.

THE PENNSYLVANIA PROTEST

Another county in Pennsylvania records an emphatic protest against the unit rule. The Republicans of Tioga County, which is known as the Republican stronghold of the Northern Tier, held a mass meeting on Tuesday evening, at Wellsboro, and adopted unanimously resolutions condemning the action of the Harrisburg Convention, ignoring the delegates named there, and taking measures for the appointment of Blaine delegates to Chicago. Tioga was represented in the Harrisburg Convention by ex-Senator Strang, who moved the substitution of Blaine's name for Grant's in the resolutions. He represented in that motion the expressed wish of his constituents. The Convention, however, ignored entirely the sentiment of the XVIth District, of which Tioga is the strong Republican county, and appointed two Grant delegates to misrepresent it at Chicago. Four other counties have already entered similar protests — Chester, Cumberland, Lancaster and Snyder—all of which will send contesting delegates.

General Logan's speech on the Fitz John Porter case occupied forty-eight pages in the Congressional Record of March 26. Its appearance was delayed for the preparation of lithographed map of the second battle of Bull Run—said to be the first map ever printed in the Record.

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS—Second Session.

House.

WASHINGTON, March 27.

Mr. Hutchins desired to call attention to a news paper article on the dignity of the House but objection was made.

Mr. Blackburn spoke against the present system of Consular and other representation at foreign courts.

Messrs. Blount and Robinson represented the latter, defending ex-Minister Washburne from the animadversions of Mr. Blackburn. The latter disclaimed any desire to detract from the fame of Mr. Washburne.

Debate followed but no action was taken. Adjourned.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Boston & Albany and New York Central Contract.

BOSTON, March 27. Messrs. Attorney General Marston, Ex-Attorney General Train and Hon. William Wirt Warren have perfected a bill which will be given to the railroad committee on Monday, entitled an act to regulate contracts made between railroads in this State and those having great Western connections.

The bill allows the Boston & Albany to make contracts with the New York roads but under certain restrictions, and the Railroad Commissioners of the State are to be the arbiters. The bill provides that no road in which the State is a stockholder or to which it has loaned its credit shall make any contract with a foreign corporation by virtue of which the operation of the two roads shall in any manner be controlled by a single management, unless by special act of the legislature, and beyond this all contracts shall be declared void. The privileges under the general railroad law in regard to connections are reserved to the corporations. In other words, it places the Boston & Albany, the Hoosac Tunnel or the Fitchburg line, and the New York & New England, on an equal footing. The bill before it is presented to the committee will be submitted to the counsel of the Boston & Albany road, Messrs. Russell and Hale, for such amendments and alterations as they may suggest. There is little doubt that the legislature will settle this question satisfactorily to all parties, but the railroad committee are in earnest as to having a decision this year.

Probably not Murder but Suicide.

BOSTON, March 28. John B. Osselof, a Russian artist, living in Everett, a few miles from Boston, was arrested to-day on suspicion of murdering his wife. Parties occupying the same house heard a scuffle in Osselof's rooms this forenoon and cries of distress in a woman's voice. Osselof soon after came from his apartment with hands and breast covered with blood. The dead body of his wife, with her throat cut from ear to ear, was found just inside the door. Osselof claims that his wife was subject to fits of insanity, and that while temporarily crazy she possessed herself of his razor and committed suicide. The medical examiner decided to hold no inquest, being of opinion that it was a case of suicide.

WASHINGTON.

Testimony Before the Exodus Committee.

WASHINGTON, March 27. Philips Joseph, a mulatto, was before the Exodus Committee testifying that negroes in Madison Parish, Louisiana, where he resides, were well treated by the whites until the election in August, 1879, when armed bands of whites from other parishes raided the parish, killing and wounding negroes and intimidating the whole colored population. Its effect was to carry the election by the Democrats by 3000 majority when the Republicans had carried the previous election by 2500 majority, the negroes being afraid to vote. Negroes found difficulty in getting away as steamboat men were afraid to take them, and in Ouichita parish negroes had the same difficulty in leaving as in the old slavery times, and were frequently killed if it was known they intended leaving, and were hunted down with blood-hounds. He described the manner in which the negroes under the new Constitution of Louisiana were obliged to vote so that their white employers knew how they voted.

In the course his examination by Mr. Vance, the witness stated that the whites were armed with sixteen shooters while the negroes were unarmed. Mr. Vance asked if the eight negroes to one white man in his parish could not protect themselves if they should arm themselves with sticks. Witness responded that he would take his chances with a sixteen shooter any time against eight white men, and told Mr. Vance that if he should go there and suggest to the blacks that they protect themselves, the whites would soon ornament a lamp post with his body.

Railroad Matters.

Justice Miller of the United States Supreme Court on Saturday signed the decrees terminating the lease and receivership, and restoring its road to the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company; also turning over the entire line which has been in dispute with the Atchsin, Topeka & Santa Fe Company for the last two years, between Canon City and Leadville, to the Denver & Rio Grande Company, and dismissing all suits.

COHOES, March 27. The weavers in the Harmony mills assembled in mass meeting to-night and passed resolutions to support the striking spinners and Monday all the employes of that corporation, 5000 in number will be on strike. Officials of the Harmony mills express the strongest determination not to accede to the demands of the disaffected workmen, and prospects are now that the struggle will be protracted indefinitely and waged in bitter spirit.

The Details of the Crime.

CANDIA, March 27. This quiet community was aroused early this morning by the report that one of the townsmen had been shot through the head by a villain who had entered the house. It appears that at 2 o'clock A. M., Mr. Jefferson Healy was aroused from sleep by a disturbance under his pillow, and upon lifting his head, was fired at, the ball entering his head near the right temple and came out near his eye, taking off the front of it. Mr. Healy arose, whereupon the villain tried to run, falling over and overturning the stove on his way to the door. Mr. Healy went to the door and said, "Run, you scoundrel, I will have somebody after you." Mrs. Healy, who was in bed with her husband, was awakened by the report of the revolver, arose and went to the door, blew a trumpet to alarm the neighbors, and Frank P. Langford immediately went to their assistance. He found blood gushing from Healy's head. A felt hat was found in the bedroom, and while escaping the villain ran against a pump near the road, breaking the handle off. It is probable that the assailant supposed Mr. Healy had money in his pants pocket, which was under his pillow. He gained access to the house by breaking a square of glass in the front window, and then turning the button, opened the window and entered and went to the front door and unlocked it, after which he proceeded to the bedroom in the ell, his course being traced by matches which he had burned. The house is situated about fifty rods from the East Candia depot in the east part of the town, near the Raymond line. There was a fire in the depot all night, and the would-be murderer had evidently passed a portion of the night there. The ball which entered Mr. Healy's head was found in the bed battered up. It struck the bone near his temple. A surgeon from Raymond was immediately sent for, and pronounced the wound not particularly dangerous. Mr. Healy is 75 years of age, and his wife 81. The affair happened near the notorious Langford road, where the Magoun murder was committeed six years ago.

The Selectmen have offered $300 reward for the apprehension of the assailant of Mr. Healy.

TURKEY.

Appalling Destitution—An Appeal for Help.

BOSTON, March 27. Letters just received from the missionaries of the American Board in Eastern Turkey report the destitution and suffering from the famine to be appalling. The missionaries are "dividing their living" with the poor about them, and their hearts are "torn with deepest sympathy." Rev. R. M. Cole writes from Erzroom, Feb. 21st, that they had tried to visit and relieve the villages about Erzroom, but had to retreat to avoid the throngs. In one Turkish village the headman was found to have a supply for ten days, but all his neighbors were entirely destitute. This man's horse had sickened and died a day or two before, and instead of being given to the cawing rooks or hungry dogs, it was used as food by the famished people. "Think of such a morsel," he writes, "and that too, for bigoted, superstitious Mohammedans." "Many may be seen gnawing at roots, herbs and such things as would sicken us at sight. Little children may be seen eagerly penetrating the deep snow in this severe cold winter to glean again the grain left at autumn's harvest, if any can be found. Mortality is becoming great in parts where the famine is the worst." "I am sorry," Mr. Cole adds, "to make such demands upon your sympathy, but cannot be indifferent to the wail of death that salutes our ears. May we not hope friends will come to the rescue."

Dr. Parmelee writes: "In one village of twelve houses they found two handfuls of flour. People are living as best they can on roots and leaves. Can you not raise something for us?"

About $1000 have already been contributed and forwarded by telegraph and mail by L. S. Ward, treasurer of the American Board, who will gladly remit any further sums paid at his office, No. 1 Somerset street, corner Beacon.

NARROW ESCAPE. Mrs. Barrett, of Brewer, and a boy with whom she was driving, had a very narrow escape from a serious accident yesterday morning. They were coming down State street hill when a bolt broke letting the whiffletree fall against the horse's heels. This naturally frightened the animal and he started off at full speed. As soon as they reached level going the horse went out of the thills and as the breeching straps did not give away, the waggon was dragged across the bridge, slewing from one side of the road to the other. It was almost a meracle that the occupants were not thrown out, but the boy kept the animal in the road and succeeded in partially stopping him on Hammond street hill, so that some men got the animal by the bridle.

Messrs. Dyer and Hughes, organ makers at Foxcroft, in order to keep pace with their rapidly increasing trade, are about to erect a new building, 38x50 feet. They already have orders for more than 300 organs a month, but are unable to fill them. They plan to more than double their business during the next three months.

There is quite an artistic air about E. W. Moore's studio on Winthrop street. The young artist has two months' work ahead to fill orders. He has lately completed a crayon likeness of the head of C. A. Boutelle, Esq., of THE BANGOR WHIG, which is very fine. It takes a pretty smart man to get ahead of Capt. Boutelle, but Mr. Moore has succeeded admirably in doing so.—Kennebec Journal.

As Mr. Moore has got ahead of our editor without the knowledge of the latter, we must naturally concede his smartness, and acknowledge his and the Journal's compliment.

This mare will be bred to Constellation, and sent to the gentleman for whom General Tilton purchased her—A. Fraser, of Goldenville, N. S.

CENTRAL CHURCH CHOIR. We are pleased to learn that the Central Congregational Society have re-engaged their present choir for another season. This choir has attained a deservedly high reputation and their music has formed a pleasing feature of the devotional exercises. Mr. Haynes is recognized as one of our best tenors and his fine voice has made him a host of friends, not only in this city, but wherever he has sung, both in and out of the State. While at Boston not long since he sung at one of the churches, and the congregation were so highly pleased with his voice that they immediately endeavored to secure him permanently, offering him the most liberal inducements if he would go there and sing each Sunday. It is therefore with pleasure that we learn that we shall not lose one of our best singers, and we congratulate the Society on again securing Mr. Haynes as leader of their choir.

LOST A DAY. A Milford correspondent sends us the following incident: A worthy farmer drove into town, one day last week, on a load of dressing. He noticed an unusual stillness about the place and while coming past the stores on the principal streets, was astonished to see every one with closed blinds. He wondered and wondered, until, on seeing an acquaintance on the steps of a store, dressed up with a "biled shirt" on, he hailed him. "Say!" he shouted, "what's up?" The friend comprehended at a glance. "Wall," he deliberately returned "we call it Sunday down this way.' "By Giminy!" exclaimed the old fellow as he "geed" and "hished" the old nag around towards home. "Where'n thunder has that day gone to," and he drove home to tell the "woman folks" that they had better put by the Saturday's work 'til next week.

NARROW ESCAPE. Last week two young men of Trenton, Henry McKannon and Will Thompson, had a very narrow escape from drowning. They were out shooting in Frenchman's Bay, in a small sail boat. They had secured one bird and Thompson was in the bow of the boat trying to get aim at another, when the skiff turned over and left them floundering in the water about two-thirds of the distance from Lamoine to Hadley's Point. They finally got hold of the boat, which was bottom up, and, after clinging and shouting nearly an hour and a half, were rescued from their perilous situation, thoroughly chilled and weakened so that they could not have held out much longer. Captain Gilpatrick, of the Tamerlane, which was just weighing anchor at Berry's Cove, and one of his men, went with a boat and picked them up, gave them dry clothing and stimulants and set them ashore. They lost two valuable guns, oars and bird, but were very thankful that they were not beneath the waters of Frenchman's Bay. This is the third party that Captain Gilpatrick has rescued from the water in nearly the same place.

UP RIVER NOTES. Our correspondent Nopen writes: H. Poor & Son contemplate building bark extract works at Grand Falls, as they can get a large amount of hemlock bark in that section. The extract would be hauled to Enfield station and then shipped to Winn by rail. This will be done the coming season. ——Bark hauling is nearly closed and the teamsters are now hauling wood for home consumption.——The bell has been placed in position at the Episcopal church and its welcome tones were heard for the first time Saturday.——Teams were in use all over town Friday breaking out the roads, the first time it has been necessary during the past winter.——Hiram Davis, deputy sheriff, sent two persons to the Bangor jall from Medway for liquor selling. One of them was a woman and he found her in a mow of straw, one and one-half miles out of town.——The Mattawamkeag Log Driving Company are building a pier in the Mattawamkeag, a short distance above the railroad bridge, to hang their boom this spring.——It is expected that the operetta, "Red Riding Hood" will attract a large audience.

FOR THE LADIES. Windsor cording is the name of the satins which have very fine raised stripes. Cream-colored batiste, embroidered in the same color and in India red and blue, is sold for trimming. Pink and white cameos, set in square gold mountings, are used for ornaments for bonnets, and are quite pretty enough to do duty as brooches. A little length added to the shoulder seam makes the spring costumes look much smaller in the waist, and the puffed sleeves help out the illusion. The silk mummy cloths and printed crapes that come for dress goods are matched in millinery by cream-colored crapes with figures in Pompadour tints. Dolman ulsters, which appeared in the English papers some time ago, have been adopted by the American cloak makers. They come nearer to being tolerable than any other ulster, and look very well on a woman of good figure. Pearl fringes n colors, ranging from Isabella to milky white, and bands of pearl trimming, are to be much used this summer. Occasionally the beads are sewed directly on the rim of a bonnet in such a way as to look almost like a band of pearled braid. Gold lace comes in Valenciennes, Breton and Smyrna patterns this year, and is placed on bonnets of all colors. It looks best in combination with black lace, and some very elegant bonnets have gold-embroidered crowns, gold lace laid just above the brim, and gold lace borderiug the ties of black Brussels net.

Police Court.

In the Police Court Saturday, James Noonan was fined three dollars and costs for drunkenness; paid.

James Morrisey for a similar offence was fined five dollars and costs; paid.

EASTER SUNDAY.

Its Observance in This City.

Easter, the anniversary of the resurrection of our Saviour, was observed at the various churches in this city yesterday. Although the display of flowers was not so profuse as in some former years, yet the decorations in some of the churches were very handsome. Services were held as follows:

ST. MARY'S ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH.

A large and reverent congregation assisted at both masses, and at Vespers. It has never been the custom here to make much floral display, but a few bouquets and plants in bloom were disposed about the altars, and a large cross of roses and smilax, the gift of a member of the congregation, was placed above the Tabernacle of the Host. The choir sang the following selections

AT SOLEMN HIGH MASS:

Easter Hymn, "O Filii et Filiæ," Palestrina; Paschal Mass, the Abbe Lambillotte; Hymn, "Veni Creator Spiritus," (Bass Solo,) Handel; Offertorium, "Haec Dies Alleluia," (Duet,) Bordese.

AT VESPERS.

Besides the Grand Anthem, Vespers of Millard, which were sung entire, the service included the Antiphon; "Haec Dies quam fecit Dominus," sung as a duett by soprano and alto voices; the Magnificat, chanted to the VIII, Gregorian Tone, 1st ending; and the Antiphon of the Blessed Virgin, "Regina Coeli," Chorus by Werner. The service closed with the Benediction of the Most Holy Sacrament, when the following salutations were sung: "O Salutaris Hostia," (Duet,) Mercier; "Ave Maria," (Soprano Solo.) the Rev. Father De Doss; "Tantum Ergo Sacramentum," F. Schubert: "Alleluia! O Filii et Filiae," Palestrina. The music was given under the direction of Mr. F. C. Jones, who presided at the organ with his usual skill.

ST. JOHN'S CATHOLIC CHURCH.

The church was beautifully decorated and the services were by Rev. Father Murphy, with a sermon from Rev. Father McSweeney. Millard's Mass, b flat with the exception of Demont's Credo, was finely sung by a choir composed of twenty voices under the direction of Mr. McQuown, who presided at the organ. The Soprano Soloists were Misses Nora McCarty, Mary Stewart, Minnie Wall, and Eltie McGinty; Alto Soloists, Misses Lizzie Sexton, Abbie O'Connell, Annie Hurley, and Josie Cannon; Tenor Soloists, Messrs. Means, Granville, and Hurley; Bassos, Messrs. Hardy, Chaplin, Finnegan, and Lynch.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The decorations at the St. John's Episcopal Church were not very elaborate, but were exceedingly tasty. At the morning service the following music was finely rendered: Opening Voluntary, Batiste; Easter Anthem, Wilson; Easter Chant, Chard; Te Deum, Mozart; Jubilate Deo, Hopkins, Easter Hymns; Paletine, Cooper; Closing Voluntary, Clark. The sermon by the rector, Rev. Mr. Palmer, was appropriate to the day.

CENTRAL CHURCH.

In the morning the pastor, Rev. G. W. Field, preached an able discourse, and the choir rendered some choice Easter music. The floral decorations were very handsome and reflected great credit on the ladies who had them in charge. The altar was almost entirely surrounded with choice flowers, the beautiful calla lily occupying prominent positions on either side. Hanging baskets were also suspended from the gas fixtures on the front of the galleries.

An Easter Sabbath School Concert was held in the evening, at which the large auditorium was filled to overflowing it being necessary to bring in extra seats to accommodate the large congregation. The following was the

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rev. Mr. Hazlewood delivered a very able discourse touching upon Easter, taking for his text 1 John 3 ch. 2 and 3, and drawing apt illustrations from nature. The church was beautifully trimmed with foliage plants, lilies and flowers, by the young ladies of the Society. Upon the table in front of the pulpit were lilies clustered around and above which, in the form of a pyramid, were superb foliage plants of all kinds. On the pulpit were two bouquets of choice flowers, one being composed entirely of roses. Plants in bloom and bouquets were placed on each side of the pulpit, in the alcoves and on the steps below. The stand on the left of the pulpit was filled with green and white foliage plants, conspicuous among which was a huge silver-leaf geranium, bearing two beautiful branches of pure white.

FIRST PARISH.

The services in the morning occurred at the usual hour and were largely attended. A large and beautiful cluster of callas and Easter lilies placed on a stand in front of the altar, immediately attracted the attention of all as they entered the church. The discourse by the pastor, Rev. S. L. B. Speare, was an able effort and particularly appropriate to the day. The subject, "Crucified with Christ," was treated in a clear and logical manner and was attentively listened to. In the evening there was a very interesting Praise Meeting, at which some choice musical selections were given.

HAMMOND STREET CHURCH.

Rev. Dr. Hamlin preached in the morning from Romans 1-14 the subject of the discourse being, "Indebtedness to the Barbarians." It was a scholarly effort and held the close attention of his hearers. The musical selections under the direction of Mr. Patten were excellent. The decorations although not elaborate were very tastily arranged, giving the church a pleasing appearance. In the evening some very interesting and appropriate Easter services were held, which were well attended and proved both profitable and enjoyable.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

The decorations at this church were exceedingly attractive. Growing plants were arranged around the altar on all sides in the most artistic manner and hanging baskets of flowers graced the walls on either side of the auditorium.

In the morning the pastor, Rev. Mr. Preble, reapeated, by request, an able discourse on "Miracles," and the choir rendered some choice music.

The evening was devoted to an Easter Concert, at which the following programme was presented: Organ voluntary; anthem by the choir; responsive service by the school; prayer by Rev. Mr. Preble; singing by the school; reading, "Eveningtide Prayer," by Miss Sadie Woodman; solo, "I Know My Redeemer Liveth," Miss Trundy; reading, "Little Golden Hair," by Miss Annie Holt; Easter carol, solo by Miss Dakin, duet by Misses Dakin and Sellers, and chorus by school; reading, "I Have Risen," E. C. Brett, Esq.; remarks and original poem, "Darkness and Light," by Rev. Mr. Preble. The attendance was large and the exercises very interesting.

UNITARIAN CHURCH.

The morning service was well attended and the exercises appropriate for Easter Sunday. There was a profusion of flowers in front of the desk. The music was of a high order and embraced the quartette, "Magnificat;" the solo "I know My Redeemer Liveth," by Mrs. Crowell, and the trio "Father Lead me by the Hand" by Mrs. Crowell, Mrs. Wasgatt and Mr. Morton. The pastor, Rev. S. J. Sewall, delivered an interesting discourse on "The Poetry of Ritualism," which was listened to with marked attention.

THE METHODIST CHURCHES.

At the Union street church, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Stone gave an able discourse in the morning. No unusual decorations were displayed. At the Pine street church Rev. Mr. Bolton preached from Matt. 28th, 6th, "Come and see the place where the Lord lay." The discourse was an eloquent one and fully appreciated by the large congregation.

SECOND AND FREE BAPTIST CHURCHES.

The day was observed as Temperance Sunday at the Columbia street church, both in the afternoon and evening. At the Essex street Free Baptist church the pastor delivered an eloquent discourse on the origin and observance of Easter.

BREWER.

In Brewer at the Methodist church the decorations were in excellent taste and the rich display of flowers was very much enhanced by the beautiful Easter-lily that was so prominent a feature. The sermon by the pastor and the music were appropriate to the occasion.

The Lake Megantic Railroad.

MONSON, March 27, 1880.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

I desire to call attention to some of the advantages which the Lake Megantic Railroad Company would gain by the route as proposed by E. R. Burpee in his letter to Hon. L. C. Flint of this town and published in THE WHIG of yesterday.

There are three or four belts of the best roofing slate ever discovered in quantities to work in this country, running through Piscataquis County between Blanchard and Brownville.

It is well known that some of the richest veins of this slate are in Monson, Williamsburg, Brownville, Blanchard, etc. But it is not at all improbable that other quarries along this line may yet be discovered equal to any now worked, as the territory extends more than twenty-five miles in length and about one and one-half miles in width.

They are from five to seven miles north of the B. & P. Railroad after it leaves Abbot, but the proposed route would run parallel with this entire tract of slate. The business already developed on some of these veins proves beyond any cavil that if a road should be constructed that would open a market for this valuable product in a dozen thriving cities of the great Northwest, there would be established an immense freighting business which would last for all time.

In addition to this, the road would pass by or near to some of the grandest water powers that nature has formed anywhere in Maine, among them the Spectacle Pond privilege, Sebec Village power, etc. It would penetrate vast forests of wood and imber that could be manufactured into a thousand and one useful articles, thus setting in motion mills and manufactories of almost every description, and it would also open up to immigrants and settlers several townships of the finest settling lands in Maine outside of the Aroostook; and besides securing the slate of Monson and Brownville it would also be much nearer to the Katahdin Iron Works than any other route yet suggested. And from Moose head lake in this county to Lincoln on the E. & N. A. Railroad the distance would be much shorter by this than any other route. It is estimated that the difference is not less than twenty miles.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot:

The undersigned, administratrix of the estate of George H Grose, late of Bangor, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that the goods and chattels, rights and credits of said deceased are not sufficient to pay his just debts and charges of administration, by the sum of about one hundred and fifty dollars.

Wherefore your petitioner prays your Honor to grant her power to sell by license at public or private sale, and convey the whole of the following described real estate of the deceased, (including the reversion of the widow's dower therein) as the residue would be greatly depreciated by a sale of any portion, viz All the real estate of which the deceased died seized, viz 14½ acres, more or less, in Hermon, with buildings, 53½ acres, more or less, of wild land in Carmel, ½ an acre of land in Carmel, with house frame thereon, to satisfy said debts, expenses of sale, and charges of administration.

PENOBSCOT, SS. At the Supreme Judicial Court which was begun and holden at Bangor, within and for the County of Penobscot, on the first Tuesday, being the 6th day of January, A D. 1880.

John B. P. Wheelden, of Bangor, in the County of Penobscot, Plaintiff, vs.

William H Smith, of Brooklyn, in County of Kings, and State of New York, Defendant.

In a plea of the case, for that the said Deft at said Bangor, on the 29th day of August, 1879, hired of the Pl'ff a certain horse then and there owned by Pl'ff, to drive from said Bangor, to Belfast, in the County of Waldo, and use there, at and about said Belfast, for a week from said 29th day of August, A D 1879, and then drive back to said Bangor, for a certain sum of money, to wit the sum of two dollars per day, and the Pl'ff then and there delivered to the said Deft the said horse to drive and use as aforesaid, and the said Deft. on the said 29th day of August, A D 1879, and the following day, to wit, the 30th day of August, A D 1879 by his servant and agent so carelessly, immoderately and recklessly drove said horse that by reason thereof and for want of due care of the said horse, the said horse was thereby spoiled and his value wholly lost to the Pl'ff.

Also for that the Pl'ff at Belfast, Waldo County, Maine, on the 29th day of August, A. D 1879, was possessed of a certain mare of chestnut color, of the value of four hundred dollars, and being so possessed, thereafterwards, on the same day lost the same, and the same thereafterwards, on the same day came into the hands and possession of the said Deft, yet the said Deft, though he well knew the same to belong to said Pl'ff, yet intending to injure and defraud him thereof, refused to deliver the same to said Pl'ff., though thereto requested but thereafterwards on the same day, converted the same to his own use.

Writ dated December 12th, 1879
